

Back to Basics—A Healthy Lifestyle Series

Backyard Composting

Saturday, April 30 th, 10 - 12noon,

The Gatehouse, Habernickel Park, 1057 Hillcrest Road, Ridgewood

Presented by - Angela Bonanno-Lynch, BCUA Solid Waste Educator and Technical Advisor

Bergen County Utility Authority www.bcua.org

Backyard composting is the simple, organic and natural process of turning yard waste and kitchen scraps into rich garden soil. Learn the basics: equal parts green and brown materials, water, what to compost and why, the methods used and invaluable benefits.

The use of a compost bin known as "The Earth Machine™" will be explained and will be available for purchase at a reduced rate of $60.00. Each bin, made of recycled plastic, is easy to assemble, light weight and holds 80 gallons of material. A limited supply available on a first come, first served basis.

A compost book and small compost bucket is free with the purchase.
